

Cutting the Cable Cord

presented by Howard Koslow

Are you tired of constant price increases from your cable provider and find you're watching fewer channels, or want to watch a great new show not on cable? This talk will help you make sense of the changing landscape of cable TV, streaming devices (e.g., Smart TVs, Roku, Apple TV) and streaming services (Netflix, Hulu, Amazon Prime, to name a few). Learn how to choose the best and most cost-effective cord-cutting strategy for you.

Howard Koslow retired from IBM after more than thirty years as a software developer, and enjoys exploring technology and helping others embrace it.
